OFFICERS

HOWARD LINCOLN

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on Sept. 27, 1999.

On Feb. 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he serves as chairman of the Children's Hospital Foundation. He was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is also a board member of The Washington Roundtable, ArtsFund, the Bellevue Boys & Girls Club, and the Chief Seattle Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Board of Trustees of Western Washington University.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, reside on Mercer Island. Their son, Brad, and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ethan and Benjamin.

CHUCK ARMSTRONG

President & Chief Operating Officer

Chuck Armstrong was named President and Chief Operating Officer of the Seattle Mariners on June 29, 1992. Armstrong was previously president of the Mariners from 1983 to 1989 and 2007 is his 22nd season as President of the Mariners. He also served as Interim Athletic Director for the University of Washington in 1991.

Born and raised in Louisville, Kentucky, Armstrong earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering in 1964 from Purdue University where he was recognized as Outstanding Senior Man. He graduated from Stanford University Law School in 1967 and then served over three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Following his tour in the Navy, Armstrong joined a major Los Angeles law firm in 1970. From 1977-1980 he was president of a leading national furniture manufacturer and importer. From 1980 to 1983, he served as president and chief executive officer of Arnel Management, an Orange County, CA, real estate investment company.

Armstrong and his wife, Susan, make their home in Medina. They have three children: daughters Dorrie (husband Ryan Schneider) and Katherine (husband Mark Hochstetler); and a son, Chuck. Dorrie and Ryan are the parents of Chuck's twin granddaughters, Emerson and Mallory.

The Armstrongs are active in numerous civic, charitable and educational activities.

JOHN ELLIS

Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis helped lead the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until Sept. 27, 1999 when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors. During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously — attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, Safeco Field.

In June, 1999 Ellis was unanimously elected to the MLB Executive Council. He's currently a member of the International, Ownership and Compensation & Finance Committees of MLB and chair of its recently formed BELP II Committee. John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 and then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, CEO and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. He's been the recipient of numerous awards – including having been named one of the University of Washington's outstanding graduates during the 20th century and inducted into the Junior Achievement Puget Sound Business Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Doris, have 4 children and 8 grandchildren – all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

BILL BAVASI

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

William J. "Bill" Bavasi is entering his fourth season as the seventh General Manager in Seattle Mariners history after being hired on Nov. 7, 2003.

Bill and his staff spent the off-season continuing the revamping the Mariners roster. After signing key free agents Richie Sexson, Adrian Beltre , Jarrod Washburn and Kenji Johjima the past two years, Bill added veteran offensive players, starting pitching and bullpen help this year.

Seattle Mariners GMs

Lou Gorman	1977-80
Dan O'Brien	1981-83
Hal Keller	1984-85
Dick Balderson	1986-88
Woody Woodward	1988-99
Pat Gillick	2000-03
Bill Bavasi	2004-

By the conclusion of the 2006 season, Bill had taken one of the oldest big league rosters in the Majors (which he inherited in 2004) and transformed the Mariners into the youngest club in the Majors (according to Stats, Inc.), while also overseeing the youngest farm system in Major League Baseball (according to Baseball Prospectus).

Bavasi spent the 2002-03 seasons as the Los Angeles Dodgers Director of Player Development, directing all aspects of the Dodgers minor league operations. Previously, Bavasi was the Vice President/ General Manager of the Anaheim Angels for six seasons (1994-99) after being promoted to that post on Jan. 12, 1994. The promotion was the culmination of a 14-year climb through the Angels player development department. While with the Angels, he helped lay the groundwork for the Angels 2002 World Championship. Bavasi began his pro baseball career with the San Diego Padres in 1974.

Bill is the son of E.J. "Buzzie" Bavasi, former GM of the Brooklyn and LA Dodgers, GM of the Angels and President of the Padres. The youngest of four brothers, Bill's brother, Bob, owned and operated the Everett AquaSox from 1984-1998. Another brother, Peter, was GM of the Padres, founding President of the Toronto Blue Jays and President of the Cleveland Indians and SportsTicker. The fourth Bavasi brother, Chris, is a prominent political figure, having served six terms as Mayor of Flagstaff, AZ. Chris is currently Executive Director for the office of Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation.

Bavasi graduated from the University of San Diego, with a degree in Psychology, in 1980.

Bill and his wife, Tracy, reside in Seattle and have two children: Kyle and Katie.

LEE PELEKOUDAS

Vice President, Associate General Manager

Now in his 28th year with the Mariners, Lee Pelekoudas was promoted to his current position on Nov. 1, 2005. Lee is responsible for the coordination of players contract negotiations, tracking Major League player movement, managing the club's player transactions within the MLB administrative rules and the Major League payroll. He works closely with Bill Bavasi and Benny Looper on the make-up of the Major League roster.

Pelekoudas joined the Mariners in December of 1979 as the Director of Team Travel. He served in that position until his move to Director of Baseball Administration in October, 1987 and was promoted to Senior Director in April, 1995. He was promoted to Vice President of Baseball Administration in September, 1997.

Lee was drafted out of Homestead (Sunnyvale, CA) High School in 1969 by the Montreal Expos in the 23rd round of the draft, but chose to attend Arizona State University where he was a three-year letterwinning pitcher (1970-72). He was a member of the 1972 Sun Devils club that went to the College World Series and posted a 64-6 record. He graduated from ASU in 1973 with a degree in journalism. Pelekoudas worked in private business for four years before joining the PCL Portland Beavers in 1978.

Pelekoudas and his wife, Terri, reside in Fall City, WA, and have two sons: Chris, a scout for the Mariners, and Bryan, who works in the Arizona Diamondbacks front office. Lee's father, Chris, was a National League umpire for 16 seasons.

BENNY LOOPER

Vice President, Player Personnel

Now in his 22nd year with the Mariners, Benny Looper was promoted to his current position following the 2006 season. His primary focus is on the Mariners 40-man roster, including viewing players throughout the Seattle system to help project where they will fit on the big league club in the future.

Benny was promoted to Vice President, Player Development & Scouting on Dec. 5, 2003. He was named VP of Player Development Feb. 11, 2002.

Despite having the youngest club's in baseball at every level of the system, the Mariners still had success in the minor league system, including Seattle's high-A team claiming the Cal League title in 2006. Three of the top four clubs advanced to the post-season in 2005. In 2004, four of the top six clubs finished in the top three in the standings. Three of Seattle's minor league club's advanced to post-season in 2003, including the Texas & California League Champions. In 2001, Seattle's minor league system had a combined record of 385-303 and five of the six clubs advanced to the post-season. During the 2000 season, the minor league system posted the highest winning percentage in organized baseball. At the conclusion of the season, the Topps Company recognized the Mariners as Organization of the Year.

Looper joined the club in March, 1987 as a part-time scout. He was promoted to full-time scout in 1988 and to Midwest Scouting Supervisor (1989-91). He later advanced to National Supervisor and Cross Checker (1992) and served as National Supervisor & Special Assignment Scout (1993-97). In 1997 he was promoted to Director of Player Development. He had previously scouted for Toronto.

Looper has a B.S. in Math from Southwestern Oklahoma University and a M.A. in Counseling from East Central Oklahoma University. He also has a post master certificate in School Administration. Benny played five years of minor league baseball in the St. Louis Cardinals system. Looper was head high school baseball coach for 12 years prior to becoming a full time scout.

Looper resides in Renton, WA, with his wife, Sandra. He has two adult children, Staci and Aaron, and three grandchildren: Hunter, Carson and Abigail. Aaron was selected by the Mariners in the 1997 June draft, and Benny's nephew, Braden, pitches for the St. Louis Cardinals.

BOB FONTAINE

Vice President, Scouting

Bob Fontaine was named Vice President, Scouting for the Mariners on Dec. 5, 2003. He is responsible for overseeing the Mariners scouting operation, including preparation for the June draft.

His impact through the draft is already being felt. At the conclusion of the 2006 season, Baseball Prospectus determined that the Mariners had the youngest team at every level at which they competed. These young players were the result of Fontaine's first three drafts as V.P. of Scouting.

At the 2006 Society of American Baseball Research (SABR) national meeting, Bob received the Roland Hemond Award for meritorious service to scouting.

Fontaine, who is in his 35th year working in baseball, was the Chicago White Sox Director of Player Development from 2000 until accepting the Seattle position. He has also worked with the San Diego Padres, Montreal Expos and Anaheim Angels.

Fontaine began his career with the Padres in 1973, working up to Scouting Director in 1980. He joined the Expos in 1982 as West Coast Supervisor before being named Director of Scouting for the Angels in 1986. Anaheim promoted him to Director of Scouting and Player Personal in 1994.

Fontaine's father, Bob Sr., was the Director of Scouting for the Padres from 1969-77, the GM from 1978-80 and the San Francisco Giants Director of Player Personnel and scouting from 1982-92.

Fontaine and his wife, Karen, reside in Bainbridge Island, WA. They have five children: Jim, Joey, Josanna, Caitlin and Matt.

JOHN BOLES

Special Assistant to the Exec. VP, Player Personnel

John Boles is in his third season as a special assistant to Bill Bavasi. His specific areas of focus are on the club's 40-man roster make-up and the Major League coaching staff.

Boles spent the 2001-03 seasons as Senior Advisor, Baseball Operations with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Boles was the field manager of the Florida Marlins from 1999-2001, as well as serving as interim field manager for the Marlins in 1996. He joined the Marlins on Nov. 1, 1991 as Director of Player Development after spending the 1991 season as Director of Player Development for the Montreal Expos. John was promoted to VP of Player Development by the Marlins in 1995.

Boles managed in the minor leagues with White Sox and Royals organizations for six years (1981-86) before moving into the Royals front office as Director of Player Development in July 1986.

John graduated from Lewis University in Romeoville, IL, in 1970 where he also played four seasons as an outfielder. He earned a Masters Degree in Educational Administration at St. Xavier University.

He and his wife, Rosemary, have two sons: Blake and Kevin.

DAN EVANS

Special Assistant to the Exec. VP, Player Personnel

Dan Evans, 47, is in his third full season as a special assistant to Bill Bavasi, and this year expanded his responsibilities by taking over directing all of Seattle's pro scouting. He also evaluates all 30 MLB teams and the Mariners minor league system, along with select amateur scouting, in addition to advising Bavasi on the make-up of the Mariners ML roster.

Evans spent most of the 2004 season in an advisory role with the club, mostly scouting the California League and the club's minor league system.

From 2001-03, Dan was with the Los Angeles Dodgers, first as a senior advisor to the GM, the final two seasons as General Manager. His .548 winning percentage in LA is the second-best for a GM in franchise history. While he was GM, the Dodgers system moved from 28th to 2nd in the Baseball America rankings. He spent the previous 19 seasons with the Chicago White Sox in various capacities, including serving as Asst. GM and Director of Baseball Operations from 1998-2000.

Prior to joining the Dodgers, Evans had stints with the Chicago Cubs as a baseball operations consultant and with Major League Baseball, assisting in the preparation of Major League club salary arbitration cases. He also worked with Fox Sports Net as a studio analyst.

Evans, a Chicago native, graduated from DePaul University. He and his wife, Susan, reside in La Canada Flintridge, CA, with their two daughters: Sarah and Andie.

KEN MADEJA

Special Assistant to the Exec. VP, Player Personnel

Ken Madeja is in his first full season as a special assistant to Bill Bavasi, after spending the previous 19 seasons as a scout in the Mariners organization. He will focus on scouting pitching at all levels, pro and amateur.

Madeja began scouting for Seattle in 1988, and has made a specialty of scouting and signing Major League quality pitchers, including J.J. Putz, Derek Lowe, Matt Mantei and Matt Thornton, among others. He was promoted to Midwest Coordinator on Nov. 3, 2005 after serving as an area scout in the Midwest prior to that.

Prior to joining the Mariners organization, Madeja was a scout with the Detroit, where he scouted and signed John Smoltz, Scott Aldred and Chris Hoiles, among others.

He was named the Mariners Scout of the Year in 2003.

Madeja played at Wayne State University in Detroit from 1971-74, where he set 10 school hitting records. He is a member of the Wayne State Hall of Fame. He graduated in 1975.

He resides in Novi, MI, with his wife Deborah. They have two children, Mark and Lauren.

BOB ENGLE

Director, International Operations

Bob Engle was promoted to his current position in October, 2004. He oversees all aspects of the Mariners international scouting, including spending considerable time each season working in Latin America. All of the Mariners' International Scouts report directly to Engle. Bob was originally hired by the Mariners as Sr. Advisor to the VP & GM of Baseball Operations on Jan. 28, 2000.

Prior to joining the Mariners, Engle had spent the previous 24 years with the Toronto Blue Jays. Originally hired in 1976 as the Eastern Scouting Supervisor, he was promoted to Eastern Regional Scouting Director in 1982 and to Director of Scouting in 1990. As Director of Scouting he was responsible for all of the Blue Jays scouting activities, as well as their June draft preparations.

Engle was promoted to Assistant General Manager on June 14, 1995 and named Sr. Advisor, Baseball Operations on February 28, 1997. Engle was also responsible for overseeing all the Jays Latin American operations beginning in 1996.

Engle attended Mesa College, Grand Junction, Colorado in 1969-1970, transferring to the University of Colorado, Boulder graduating in 1973. He began his career in professional baseball when he was hired as the Midwest scouting supervisor by the Baltimore Orioles in 1974.

Engle and his wife Barbara reside in Tampa, FL. They have three daughters: Melisa, Amy and Jennifer.

FRANK MATTOX

Director, Player Development

Now in his 14th year with the Mariners, Frank Mattox was promoted to his current position on Dec. 5, 2003. He joined the club in 1995 as West Coast Scouting Supervisor and was promoted to Director, Scouting on Sept. 28, 1997.

Despite having the youngest club's in baseball at every level of the system, the Mariners still had success in the minor leagues, including Seattle's high-A team claiming the Cal League title in 2006. The 2005 season was another successful one for the Mariners system, as three of the top four clubs advanced to the post-season. In 2004, four of the top six clubs finished in the top three in the standings.

Mattox had previously scouted for the Colorado Rockies where he was named Scout of the Year in 1993.

He has a BS in Political Economy of Natural Resources from the University of California at Berkeley.

Mattox played seven years of minor league baseball in the Milwaukee Brewers system and spent one year as the assistant General Manager of the Denver Zephyrs. In all, he has 21 years of experience in professional baseball.

Mattox resides in Peoria, AZ, with his wife, Sylvia, sons, Myles and Blake and daughter Marisol.

GREG HUNTER

Director, Minor League & Scouting Operations

Greg Hunter is in his 11th season with the Mariners player development department, his fourth since being promoted to Director of Minor League Operations on Dec. 5, 2003. This past off-season, Greg added responsibilities in scouting to his job description. Greg spent the 2001-2003 seasons as Director, Minor League Administration.

Despite having the youngest club's in baseball at every level of the system, the Mariners still had success in the minor leagues, including Seattle's high-A team claiming the Cal League title in 2006. The 2005 season was another successful one for the Mariners minor league system, as three of the top four clubs advanced to the post-season. In 2004, four of the Mariners' top six affiliates finished in the top-three in their respective leagues. In 2003 three of Seattle's minor league club's advanced to postseason (for the second straight season). In 2001, five of the six clubs advanced to the post-season. In 2000, the Mariners minor league system posted the highest winning percentage in organized baseball.

Hunter joined the Mariners player development department in February 1996 as player development assistant. He was promoted to assistant director in January of 2000. Hunter played professionally from 1990-93, including playing in Seattle's minor league system with Bellingham, San Bernardino, Peninsula and Jacksonville.

A native of Kirkland, WA, Hunter played in the 1980 Little League World Series for Kirkland National. He went on to be a four-year letterwinner at Washington State University and graduated in 1990 with a degree in Social Sciences.

Hunter resides in Seattle, WA.

JIM NA

Director, Baseball Administration

BEHIND THE SCENES

RICK GRIFFIN

Head Athletic Trainer

Rick Griffin is in his 25th season as only the second trainer in Mariners history. During the 2006 season, Rick worked his 3,800th game with the Mariners; he's missed only three in his 24 years with the club. Prior to joining the team on February 3, 1983, he worked as a full-time trainer at the Sports Medicine Clinic in Seattle. A native of Brigham City, Utah, Rick earned a B.S. from Utah State in health education and followed with a M.S. from the University of Oregon. His baseball background includes four years (1977-81) as a trainer with the then Cincinnati Reds affiliate Eugene Emeralds of the Northwest League. Also in Eugene, he served as an instructor and athletic trainer at Winston Churchill High School. In 1982 toured Australia speaking on sports medicine topics. In November of 1994, 1995 & 2000, Rick went to Japan and lectured to the Japanese Baseball Athletic Trainers Society. Rick served as the American League trainer for the All-Star Game in 1987, 1995 & 2001. In December of 1989, he was elected as the AL representative of the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society, a position he held for six years. In October 1996, Rick toured Japan with a group of All-Stars that played Japanese All-Stars in a series of exhibition games. Following the 1999 season the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society named Rick and his staff the Major League Baseball Athletic Training Staff of the Year. He is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine, National Athletic Trainers Society and the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He enjoys hunting, fishing, golf and providing medical coverage at professional rodeos in the off-season.

ROB NODINE

Assistant Athletic Trainer

Rob Nodine enters his first season as an assistant trainer at the Major League level after spending 14 years in the Mariners system. Rob joined the organization in 1993 as trainer at Riverside (A); spent four seasons as a trainer for the Mariners affiliate in the Cal League before moving to double-A in 1997. He spent four years (1997-2001) as the double-A trainer and was the trainer for the West Division Team in the 2001 Texas League All-Star Game. He moved to AAA Tacoma in 2002. Rob received his B.S. degree in Athletic Training from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas in 1992. He worked as a trainer for the baseball, football, basketball and track teams, among others, while a student at UNLV. Nodine is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. Rob resides in Peoria, AZ with his wife, Jennifer, and daughters McKenna and Shelby.

TAKAYOSHI MORIMOTO

Assistant Athletic Trainer

"Taka" Morimoto is in his fourth season as an assistant trainer. The Kyoto, Japan, native graduated from the Kansai College of Oriental Medicine in Japan. He worked with the Orix Blue Wave as an Athletic Trainer from 1997-2001. Taka spent the 2002 season working as a trainer with the Peoria Mariners as part of an internship before joining the Mariners in 2004. Morimoto and his wife, Kuniko, reside in Kyoto, Japan in the off-season.

JASON STEERE

Physical Therapist

Jason is in his third season as the Mariners first-ever full-time physical therapist. He was the minor league rehabilitation coordinator for the LA Dodgers in 2003 and 2004 after spending the 2002 season as an intern with the AAA Las Vegas 51s in 2002. The Coon Rapids, MN, native has a BA (in psychology) and an MS (in physical therapy) from the University of South Dakota. He is currently working on a clinical doctorate degree in physical therapy. Jason, and his wife Dawn, reside in Seattle with their daughters Avery (5) and Riley (3).

TED WALSH

Equipment Manager

For Ted Walsh, 2007 is his fifth season with the Mariners, but his 11th as a big league Equipment Manager. Walsh spent six years (1997-2002) as the Cleveland Indians equipment manager, including the 1997 All-Star Game in Jacobs Field. Ted spent the previous 16 years (1981-96) as the assistant equipment manager for the San Francisco 49ers. While with the 49ers, he designed and marketed the "Quick Cleat" tool to quickly substitute cleats on players. Ted, who graduated from Diablo Valley College in 1985, worked the springs of 1982-86 with the Milwaukee Brewers. Ted resides in Seattle with his wife, Cybele.

BILL SEPICH

Assistant Equipment Manager

"Billy"Sepich begins his 13th season with the Mariners organization, his fifth as the assistant equipment manager in the home clubhouse. He began as an assistant in the visiting clubhouse in 1995, and served as the visiting clubhouse manager in 2002. He moved over to the home side beginning in 2003. In addition to assisting with other clubhouse duties, Sepich oversees inventory on much of the baseball equipment and supplies. Sepich, an avid golfer who sports an eight handicap, attended Eastern Illinois University. He resides in Seattle.

ALLEN WIRTALA

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Allen Wirtala begins his 15th season with the Mariners organization, his 13th as the strength and conditioning coach. He is a graduate of Montana State Univ. with a B.S. in Sports Medicine. Allen served as a student trainer from 1989-92 and worked at the Montana Deaconess Medical Center in 1992. He spent the 1993 and 1994 seasons as a trainer with Seattle's Midwest League affiliate in Wisconsin. The native of Geyser, Montana, is a Certified Athletic Trainer as well as a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist. Allen also serves as the team's bullpen catcher and throws batting practice. Allen resides in Seattle with his wife, Lyndie, and daughter Alanna Rose.

CARL HAMILTON

Video Coordinator

Carl Hamilton is in his 28th season with a Major League club, his 18th with the Mariners organization, all as the teams' Major League video coordinator. Carl's responsibilities include recording every Mariners game and other ML games for scouting and training purposes; videotaping Major League players and pitchers during spring training and the regular season; taping minor league players at spring training; and preparing training, highlight and motivational tapes for the Mariners organization. At the 2005 Winter Meetings, the Professional Baseball Video Coordinators Association (PBVCA) unanimously voted to name an annual award for the top video coordinator after Carl, and awarded him the inaugural Carl Hamilton Award for "his commitment, years of service, excellence and positive impact on the role of video coordinators in Major League Baseball." The award is given annually to the top video coordinator as voted by his peers. Prior to joining the Mariners in 1990, Carl spent 10 years with the Texas Rangers as ML video coordinator. Before his career in baseball, Carl worked as a police officer, in private security and served with the Marine Corps. Carl resides in Kent, WA, with his wife Betty Lou. They have four adult children (Kathleen, Mark, Mike and Kimberly) and seven grandchildren. His son Mike was the 2006 Carl Hamilton Award winner as video coordinator for Colorado and now works as a pro scout for the Rockies.

BOB CHRISTOFFERSON

Head Groundskeeper

Bob Christofferson was hired July 1, 2000 as the Mariners head groundskeeper. Following the 2005 season, Bob was honored with the Harry C. Gill Memorial Award by the Sports Turf Managers Association. The award an individuals long-term service and commitment as well as their professional excellence. Christofferson spent the previous 20 years as the stadium manager and head groundskeeper of Cheney Stadium for the triple-A Tacoma franchise of the Pacific Coast League. His father, Bob, joined the original Cheney Stadium grounds crew in 1960. Christofferson was a three-time winner of the PCL Groundskeeper of the Year Award, including the first-ever award in 1992 and back-to-back honors in 1998 & 1999, despite having to battle the Northwest's fickle weather. His tenure included overseeing the Goodwill Games competition when Cheney Stadium was host to 24 games in six days, the world fastpitch softball championship in 1980 and numerous state high school playoffs. Bob graduated from Stadium HS in Tacoma and Central Washington University, where he played baseball. He was a social studies teacher and varsity baseball coach at Foss HS from 1976-80. Christofferson and his wife, Cyndy, reside in Puyallup with their two children: Tyler and Lauren.

1991: Surrendered just one home run in 133.2 innings of work with Rockford (A).

1992: Opened season on Pittsburgh's Major League after being a Rule V selection the previous December…pitched once, allowing 2 runs in 2.0 innings at Philadelphia on April 11 and was returned to the Montreal organization on April 23…made 24 starts for West Palm Beach (A) upon his return.

1993: Finished second in the Eastern League with 13 victories for Harrisburg (AA).

1994: Appeared in just 3 games for Harrisburg due to a season-long stint on the disabled list with a right shoulder strain.

1995: Split the year between starting and relieving for Charlotte (AAA), in first year in Marlins organization.

1996: Spent most of year with Charlotte, but was recalled on Aug. 8 and made Marlins debut with a scoreless 9th vs. the Mets...was first big league action since the '92 season.

1997: Spent lone season with the Cubs organization...opened year with Iowa (AAA), appearing in 31 games (14 starts)...had contract purchased Aug. 10 and spent the final six weeks with Chicago, going 0-5 with a 5.70 ERA in 11 games (6 starts)...first Major League start was a 2-1 loss in Los Angeles on Aug. 11.

1998: Proved versatile in first full season in the Majors with Montreal, working mainly in relief but making 13 starts, going 2-2 with a 3.08 ERA in that role...posted first ML win May 15 at LA, tossing 7.2 innings of a 4-2 triumph, his 33rd big league appearance.

1999: Worked as a starter, long reliever and set-up man...made start in Montreal's home opener vs. the Mets, working 7.1 innings in a 5-1 victory...fired his first career complete game on April 14 vs. the Brewers, tossing a 6-hitter in a 15-1 win...spent 25 days on the disabled list with a strained left oblique muscle from July 16-Aug. 9...after starting career 0-for-42 at the plate, snapped 0'fer with an infield hit on April 8...hit first home run of his career May 24 at Philadelphia, hitting a 2-run shot off of Joel Bennett in the fifth inning...earned his first career save Oct. 2 at Philadelphia with 3.0 innings.

2000: Began year with Montreal but was traded to Kansas City on April 25 for pitcher Brad Rigby...tossed 4.0 shutout innings of 1-hit ball in his KC debut to defeat Seattle and earned a spot in the starting rotation, appearing 9 times but going 1-6 with a 6.56 ERA... returned to bullpen duty, working 4 times before being designated for assignment on June 28...outrighted to Omaha (AAA) on July 7.

2001: Served in a variety of roles with Arizona, opening the year in bullpen and finishing as an integral part of the rotation...allowed just 6 earned runs over final 25.1 regular-season innings (2.13 ERA)...first win as a starter came July 16 in his ninth start of season, a 5-3 triumph at Seattle; first win as a starter since May 17, 2000...in relief, retired 24 of 30 first batters he faced, including 16 in a row from June 2-Sept. 26, 2001.

2002: Worked in relief in 6 of his first 7 outings...beginning April 27, made 28 starts over final 29 appearances...was 8-9 in his starts but offense scored 3 runs or less in each of the losses, totaling 17 runs...tossed 9.0 innings of 1-hit, shutout ball on May 28, the lone knock a fourth inning single by Jeff Kent but left with ND...posted a pair of interleague wins: had a 7-5 win in Fenway Park on June 7, then won 9-5 at Yankee Stadium, Arizona's first-ever win in six tries in the Bronx...hit second career home run, a solo shot off of Los Angeles' Kazuhisa Ishii, on June 2 in Dodger Stadium.

2003: Finished 12th in the NL in ERA (3.54) and established personal bests in strikeouts (142) and innings (193.1)...made first six appearances out of bullpen, then made first start April 16...involved in a bench-clearing brawl in St. Louis on April 20 and subsequently suspended for 10 games (May 23-June 2)...tossed a 5-hit shutout in San Diego on July 18, his second career shutout (first since June 5, 1999, at Toronto as an Expo)...absorbed a 3-2 defeat in Florida on July 28 despite posting a career-high 11 strikeouts, his first career double-digit strikeout game.

2004: Signed with Toronto where he was 10-13, 4.80 in 38 games, the second-highest win total on the team and one short of his career-high...began season in starting rotation and made 31 starts with 2 complete games and a shutout... allowed 3 or fewer earned runs in 18 of his last 28 starts...tossed sixth career complete game (first in AL) May 2 at Chicago White Sox, but dropped a 3-2 decision...pitched complete-game shutout, allowing 4 hits and fanning 8, the third of his ML career, on June 9 vs. the Dodgers...his 1.93 ERA in June was the second lowest in the AL (8 ER, 37.1 IP)...moved to bullpen in September, making 7 appearances, and was 5-for-5 in save opportunities...made first relief outing on Sept. 18 vs. Tampa Bay and collected first ML save since Oct. 2, 1999 at Philadelphia.

2005: Spent first full season as a closer and converted 31 of 39 save opps, while posting a 5-8 mark and 4.10 ERA in a career-high 71 appearances...31 saves ranked 10th in the A.L....5 wins led all Toronto relievers, while 8 losses ranked second among AL relievers...finished 62 games, third in the AL...just sixth Blue Jay pitcher to notch 30+ saves, the first since Kelvim Escobar had 38 in 2002...finished 10th in the AL Rolaids Relief Man standings with 77 points...recorded 10 saves of over an inning, and worked 1.0 inning or more in 57 of his 71 appearances...he tossed a season high 2.0 innings on four occasions, surrendering just 1 earned run in those games (1.12 ERA)...saved 15 of his first 16 opportunities, including a season-high 13 straight from April 12-July 7 from April 12-June 7 surrendered just 2 earned runs in 18.2 innings (spanning 19 appearances) an 0.96 ERA...pitched in his 300th career game April 23 at Baltimore...notched 7 saves in both August and Sept., his highest total in a month...prior to the All-Star Break was 4-2 with 15 saves in 17 opportunities and a 2.97 ERA in 37 appearances...after the break was 1-6 with 16 saves and 22 opportunities and a 5.35 ERA in 34 appearances...retired 51 of the 71 first batters he faced and stranded 22 of the 31 runners he inherited...collected 30th save in spectacular fashion Sept. 24 in Yankee Stadium: entered with a 7-4 lead but with the bases loaded in the last of the eighth and fanned Jason Giambi to escape that jam, then struck out Gary Sheffield, Hideki Matsui and Jorge Posada in the ninth to wrap up the victory...only pitcher in 2005 that earned a save in which he faced at least 4 batters and struck out every one...only Eric Gagne and Brad Lidge had such saves in 2004, while last American Leaguer was the Blue Jays Trever Miller vs. Baltimore in July 2003.

POSTSEASON EXPERIENCE: Started third and final game of the 2002 NLDS for Arizona vs. St. Louis, dropping a 6-3 decision in Busch Stadium...made six appearances for Arizona in 2001, his first career post-season...worked once in relief and once as a starter in each round...appeared in relief in Game #2 of the NLDS vs. St. Louis then followed just two nights later with a win as the starter in Game #3 at Busch Stadium, tossing 6.0 frames in the 5-3 victory...lone loss occurred as starter in Game #2 of the NLCS vs. Atlanta, dropping an 8-1 decision...surrendered a home run to Marcus Giles on the first pitch of the game, the third game-opening homer in NLCS history, then settled in and kept the Braves off the board until Javy Lopez hit a 2-run shot in the seventh...started Game #5 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium and responded with 7.2 shutout innings, his longest outing of 2001; threw 126 pitches and left with a 2-0 lead, but the Yanks tied the game with 2 out in the ninth and took a 3-2 series lead when they snapped the tie in the 12th...appeared in Game #7, retiring only Yankee he faced, to help set the stage for Arizona's ninth inning heroics...in all, worked 21.2 innings in the post-season allowing 6 earned runs for a 2.49 ERA while limiting opposing hitters to an overall .173 average.

Roberto Clemente Award

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team. The award was named in honor of Roberto Clemente in 1973. The national recipient of the 2006 Roberto Clemente Award presented by John Hancock will be announced during the 2006 World Series.

The Mariners have a proud history with the Roberto Clemente Award. Edgar Martínez was named the Roberto Clemente Award winner in 2004, and Jamie Moyer claimed the award in 2003. It was the first time ever a team had back-to-back winners. Harold Reynolds won in 1991.

BLACKLEY'S CAREER TRANSACTIONS

— Signed as a non-drafted free agent Oct. 29, 2000; signed by Mariners scout Jim Colborn.

— On 60-day disabled list March 3-Oct. 31, 2005 recovering from surgery to repair a tear in his left labrum.

NAMING THE MARINERS

The nickname "Mariners" was selected by the ownership of the Seattle franchise after a "Name the Team Contest" that resulted in over 15,000 entries and over 600 different names being submitted.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

NOTHING EXTRA...In 2005, did not allowed an extra-base until his fifth Major League start (112 batters faced)...he was the first pitcher to begin his Big League career with such a streak since Kip Gross went 121 batters faced without allowing an extra-base hit from April 21, 1990-July 4, 1991...the 112 BF without an extra-base hit was the fourth longest such streak in the Majors in 2005: 1. Noah Lowry, SF, 133 BF, July 26-Aug. 22; 2. Kyle Farnsworth, ATL, 125 BF, May 2-Aug. 4; 3. Sergio Mitre, CHI, 115 BF, May 29-June 24; 4. Felix Hernandez, SEA, 112 BF, Aug. 4-26; 5. Mariano Rivera, NYY, 107 BF, April 9-July 2.

SEYMOUR SAYS...according to The Elias Sports Bureau, Hernandez debuted as the youngest big league pitcher since Jose Rijo worked as a reliever in 1984...Rijo was 19 years, 54 days old on July 6,1984 (NYY at Minnesota) in a relief appearance.

- our friends at 500 Fifth Avenue in Manhattan also note that he was the youngest player to appear in a Major League game in 2005.
- Elias also notes that Felix was the youngest player to make his ML debut as a starting pitcher since the White Sox' Britt Burns on August 5, 1978...Burns, who lost 7-0 to Detroit, was 19 years, 58 days old.

JOHJIMA's CAREER HIGHS

MOST HITS: 4 — 6/24/06 at SD
MOST HOME RUNS: 2 — twice; last 6/27/06 at ARI
MOST RBI: 5 — 6/27/06 at ARI
MOST STOLEN BASES: 1 — three times; last 9/9/06 vs. TEX
LONGEST HITTING STREAK: 12 — 6/16-7/2/06
CAREER GRAND SLAMS: none

2006:

- Set the American League record for hits by a rookie catcher with 147, breaking the mark set by the Angels' Buck Rodgers in 1962 (146)...fourth-highest total ever for any Major League rookie catcher.
- Tied for first among all AL rookies with a .291 batting average...also led AL rookies in homers (18), RBI (76), multi-hit games (40), hits, total bases (228) and extra-base hits (44).
- His 18 homers tied Dan Wilson (1996) for the most by a Mariner catcher in a single season...76 RBI rank second for a Seattle catcher to Wilson's club-record 83 in '96.
- Topped all Major League catchers in games (144), tying Wilson's 1997 club record.
- Ranked seventh in AL with a team-high .344 batting average with runners in scoring position...only Ichiro's .445 average with RISP in 2001 is higher among all-time Seattle rookies.
- Hit safely in 19 of his final 21 games to finish the season (25x89/.281). Batted .311 (92x296) from June 16 through the end of the year...hit .322 in August (29x90).
- Hit safely in 15 of 16 Interleague games (25x56/.446)...had 7 homers and 18 RBI vs. the National League...hit a Major League-high two homers on June 24 at San Diego and June 27 at Arizona.
- Grounded into a 4-3-5 triple play on May 27 at Minnesota in the 7th inning.
- Homered on Opening Day (April 3) vs. the Angels for his first Major League hit...homered again the next game April 4 vs. Los Angeles, becoming the second Mariner to hit a home run in each of his first two big league games (also Alvin Davis April 11, 1984 vs. Boston and April 13, 1984 at Minnesota).

PERSONAL: Kenji (KEN-jee) Johjima (JOE-jim-muh)...resides in Sasebo, Japan with his wife Maki, son Yuta (4), daughter Miu (2) and infant son Keita...attended Beppudai Fuzoku High School...first Japanese catcher to play in the Major Leagues...in 2000, a museum named in his honor opened in his hometown of Sasebo.

CAREER: Posted a .299 batting average with 211 home runs and 699 RBI in 11 seasons with Japan's Pacific League's Fukuoka Softbank Hawks...has averaged .305, 30 homers and 87 RBI in 627 games over the past five years...seven-time Gold Glove winner...has led the league in caught-stealing percentage four consecutive seasons...member of three Pacific League championship teams (1999, 2000, 2003) under legendary player and manager Sadaharu Oh...played on two Japan Series championship teams (1999, 2003)...six-time post-season All-Star...named to the Pacific League's "Best Nine" from 1999-2001 and again from 2003-2005...Pacific League's Most Valuable Player in 2003...member of the bronze medal Japanese team in the 2004 Olympics.

1994: Selected in the first round of the Japanese Draft by Daiei Hawks.

1995: Began his professional career...called up to Majors and made his Japanese League debut, playing in 12 games for Fukuoka...batted .167 (2x12).

1996: Playing in the Western League, set a league record with 25 homers...also led the league with 63 RBI...became the second player in Western League history to hit grand slams in consecutive at-bats on July 4...saw action in 17 games for the Hawks.

JOHJIMA (continued)

1997: Became Hawks' starting catcher, playing in 120 games...batted .308 as a rookie, becoming the youngest rookie ever voted as a Japanese League All-Star starter (21 years, 45 days).

1998: Batted .251 in his second year in the Japan League.

1999: Named to the Pacific League's "Best Nine" for the first time as Fukuoka won the Japanese Series and the Pacific League championship...hit .306 with 33 double and 17 home runs...third in the league in batting average (behind Ichiro and Kazuo Matsui)...third in doubles...won his first Gold Glove...

2000: Batted .310, again earning "Best Nine" honors...an All-Star while winning another Gold Glove...swiped a career-best 10 bases.

2001: Cracked 31 home runs and collected 95 RBI...again named to "Best Nine", selected to All-Star team and won third consecutive Gold Glove...played a career-high 140 games...homered twice in same inning on April 13.

2002: Won fourth consecutive Gold Glove...batted .293.

2003: Helping lead the Hawks to another Pacific League championship, was named Pacific League's Most Valuable Player...batted .330 and hit 34 home runs...posted career highs of 101 runs, 182 hits, 39 doubles, 119 RBI , 53 walks, .655 slugging percentage and .432 on-base clip...tied his career high of 140 games played...won fifth straight Gold Glove, made his fourth "Best Nine" and sixth All-Star squad...led the Pacific League in total bases, second in hits, RBI, doubles and third in home runs...third in runs...had six hits on July 27.

2004: Missed part of the Japan League season while playing in the Olympics...still managed career-highs of .338 (144x426) and 36 home runs...was hit by a pitch 22 times, breaking Ichiro's previous Pacific League mark of 18...homered, doubled twice and had four RBI to lead Japan to 11-2 win over Canada for the bronze medal...ranked fifth among Olympians with a .378 batting average (14x37)...seventh with seven runs scored.

LOWE's CAREER TRANSACTIONS

— Mariners 5th round selection in the 2004 June draft; signed by Mariners scout Mark Lummus.

— On 15-day disabled list Aug. 20, 2006-end of season (was transferred to 60-day DL Sept. 20) with chondral defect in his right elbow.

LOWE DOUBT ABOUT IT

After being selected on July 7, Mark Lowe tossed 17.2 consecutive shutout innings in 13 games, setting a franchise record for most consecutive shutout innings to start a career...the record was previously held by Pat Rice (13.0 IP, May 18-28, 1991)...Lowe tied Tim Davis' franchise-record (April 4-May 9, 1994) of 13 consecutive appearances to begin a career...his streaks ended Aug. 17 in Anaheim when he allowed two runs to the Angels.

JULIO MATEO (40)

POSITION: Right-Handed Pitcher
AGE: 29, turns 30 Aug. 2 BORN: 8-2-77 in Bani, DR
BATS: Right THROWS: Right HEIGHT: 6-0 WEIGHT: 222
ML SERVICE: 4 years, 60 days
CONTRACT STATUS: Signed thru 2007 with a club option for 2008.
ACQUIRED: Signed as a non-drafted free agent May 15, 1996; signed by Mariners scout Ramon De Los Santos.

2006:

- Won a career-high 9 games, including his final four decisions, despite two stints on the disabled list...missed last five weeks of season.
- Led all American League relievers in wins and tied for second in the Majors.
- Most wins by a Seattle reliever since Arthur Rhodes won 10 games in 2002.
- Was 0-for-3 in save opportunities.
- Allowed no runs over his final seven appearances (8.0 IP) from Aug. 12-25 before suffering a season-ending injury on Aug. 28...broke his fourth metacarpal (ring finger) on his left hand while lifting weights.
- Began and ended season with four-game winning streak: April 13-June 21; July 31-Aug. 25.
- Went 7-4 with a 3.29 ERA (15ER/41.0IP) in 39 games after returning from his first stint on the disabled list...reinstated May 20 after going on the DL on April 30 due to right shoulder tendinitis.
- Allowed career-high six walks April 7 vs. Oakland...did not allow a run in five games (6.0 IP) from May 22-31.
- Was the winning pitcher the first and last games of July...pitched in 200th Major League game Aug. 4...notched consecutive victories vs. Tampa Bay Aug. 7-8.
- His two runs allowed Aug. 10 were the most since a season-high-tying four-run outing July 4 vs. the Angels.
- Was away much of spring training due to the death of his brother in an auto accident in the Dominican Republic.

MARINERS CARE

Mariners Care is the Seattle Mariners non-profit foundation. Mariners Care is committed to making the Pacific Northwest a better place for our youth to grow up by impacting youth oriented service projects with the support they desperately need and deserve. In 2006, the Seattle Mariners, along with the team's fans, corporate and community partners, raised over $1 million for various charities and community projects. Since 2000, Mariners Care has helped raise over $7.8 million to benefit primarily youth-oriented community service programs.

THE MARINER MOOSE

On Opening Night, 1990, the Mariner Moose became the first mascot in team history. The Moose was selected from over 2,500 entries submitted by children 14 and under across the Pacific Northwest. It was the idea of Ammon Spiller, a fifth grader from Central Elementary School in Ferndale, WA. The Mariner Moose is available for some public appearances. Call the Mariners office at (206) 346-4000 for details.

PUTZ's CAREER TRANSACTIONS

— Selected by Seattle in the sixth round of the 1999 June draft.

SAVE RULE

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:
(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
(2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; OR
  (b) He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, or at bat or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces); OR
(c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

last done 7/7/05 vs. CHI-NL (with ATL)
RELIEVER: 3.2 – 8/14/05 vs. ARI (with ATL)

2006:

- Pitched in just 14 games in an injury-plagued season in which he made three trips to the disabled list.
- Went 2-0 with a 1.59 ERA in three interleague starts (22.2 IP/4 ER).
- Opponents hit just .229 with RISP, .156 with 2 out/RISPs and were 0-for-6 with the bases loaded.
- Made nine starts after he was hit on the side of the head by a Lance Berkman line drive June 11 at HOU.
- Suffered strained left hamstring in his season debut April 5 at LAD on fourth-inning bunt single (his second hit of the game).
- Pitched in four injury rehab games and went 1-1 with a 5.19 ERA.
- Activated from the disabled list May 27, but actually had two stints on the DL: was activated on May 6 at NYM, in case he was needed as a reliever (the Braves had played a 14-inning game on May 5); was put back on the DL on May 7 and began his injury rehab. assignment on May 8.
- Activated from DL and made his second start on May 27 at CHI (NL), getting his first win in a 2-1 victory.
- Left game June 11 (at HOU) in the second inning after he was hit on the left side of the head by a Lance Berkman line drive.
- Made first start in 11 days on June 22 vs. TOR; had ND despite allowing just one run on seven hits in 6.2 IP..tossed 126 pitches, a career high, and six walks allowed matched his career high (also: May 10, 2003 vs. SF).
- Allowed just one run on seven hits in 8.0 IP June 27 in a 5-2 win over the Yankees.
- Went 8.0 innings for second straight start on July 2 vs. BAL, allowing three runs without walking a batter in 10-3 win...two of the runs came on Melvin Mora's first-inning homer.
- Matched shortest-career outing with 1.0 IP July 7 vs. CIN; allowed 7 ER on 7 hits.
- Won July 17 at STL, allowing one run on two hits in 5.0 IP before leaving the game due to left hamstring fatigue in 15-3 win.
- Missed final seven weeks of the season on DL with sprained left middle finger.

PERSONAL: Horacio Ramirez...resides in Mableton, GA...is a 1997 graduate of Inglewood (CA) High School, where he played baseball and basketball...signed by John Ramey (ATL).

BATS: Switch THROWS: Right HEIGHT: 6-0 WEIGHT: 193
ML SERVICE: 9 years, 42 days
CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2008
ACQUIRED: Acquired from Washington in exchange for Emiliano Fruto (rhp) and Chris Snelling (of) on Dec. 18, 2006.

2006:

- The Washington/Montreal franchise's longest tenured player capped comeback from three years of knee problems to play nearly a complete season.
- Strained left hamstring rendered 27-game stint on the disabled list, July 25-Aug. 17...otherwise, went injury free.
- Started strong, batting .344 (32x93) with 2 doubles, 3 home runs and 15 RBI in April...32 hits and 15 RBI in April tied for the team lead...went 3x5 on Opening Day, April 3 at Shea Stadium vs. the Mets to run Opening Day hitting streak to 7 (15x31 with 2 doubles, one homer and 7 RBI during the streak)...15 Opening Day hits beginning with the 2000 season are the most in Major League Baseball (Todd Walker is 2nd with 14)...is now 15x33 (.455) for career on Opening Day.
- Began season with 7-game hitting streak...went 13x32 (.406) with one double, 2 homers and 9 RBI during the 7-game sprint to start the season.
- His 25 interleague hits tied for NL lead with Colorado's Jamey Carroll and Pittsburgh's Freddy Sanchez.
- On Sept. 17 vs. Milwaukee, started at first base for the first time since May 29, 1999 vs. San Francisco...with injury to Nick Johnson on Sept. 23 at Shea Stadium, started 8 games at first base in all...posted a 1.000 fielding percentage, recording 54 putouts and 3 assists along the way.
- Closed the season strong, hitting .316 (12x38) with 3 doubles, one homer and 4 RBI in 12 games from Sept. 18-Oct. 1.
- Hit .304 (76x250) on the road...batted .303 (97x320) in the game's first six innings, .259 (37x143) thereafter
- Batted .378 (17x45) with 4 doubles, one homer and 4 RBI in 13 games against the Mets.
- Four game-winning RBI tied for fifth among Nationals.
- Started 115 games (105 at 2B, 8 at 1B and 2 at DH)...when in the starting lineup, Washington finished 46-69 (.400).
- Went 3x11 with a double, RBI and 2 walks during 4-game rehab assignment with Harrisburg of the Double-A Eastern League (3 games) and Potomac of the Single-A Carolina League (one game).
- Notched 3 hits and 3 RBI on April 25 at Philadelphia.
- On May 3 vs. Florida, earned 3 walks in a single game for just the fourth time (also Sept. 20, 2005 vs. San Francisco, July 7, 2002 at Philadelphia and May 13, 2001 at Colorado).
- Three-run homer in second inning on May 25 vs. Houston triggered a 8-5 win...the 3-run shot was the Nationals' first in over a month (April 21 vs. Atlanta).
- Went 2x5 on Aug. 18 at Philadelphia in first action after missing previous 4 weeks while on the DL with a strained left hamstring.
- Legged out 300th career double on Sept. 9 at Colorado.

PERSONAL: Jose Angel Cetty Vidro (VEE-droh)...resides in Puerto Rico with his wife Annette and children Jose, Jr. and Anaie...through the Jose Vidro Foundation, helps ill children and sponsors baseball camps...showcased island of Puerto Rico as host of This Week in Baseball.

CAREER: A career .301 (1280x4257) hitter in his Major League career...prior to joining Seattle, had spent entire pro career with the Washington/Montreal franchise...one of seven players with 1,000 games played with the Nationals/Expos...agreed to participate in the 2005 World Baseball Classic for Puerto Rico, but backed out in February, 2006 in order to fully strengthen knee...signed by Expos scouts Fred Ferreira and Juan Loyola.

1992: In pro debut, named to Gulf Coast post-season All-Star team...named Topps' Co-Player of the Month for August...was also the Expos' organization Player of the Month in August...ranked third among short-season switch-hitters in batting (.330).

1993: Struggled through injury-plagued campaign, but showed offensive flashes in first pro season...left-wrist sprain rendered DL stint, June 1...activated from the DL, June 15th... didn't play after July 26 due to the same sprain.

1994: Advanced to West Palm Beach...named Florida State League Player of the Week for the period ending June 19.

1995: Began season with West Palm Beach (A), hit .325 and was promoted to Harrisburg (AA)...surpassed the 100-hit plateau for second consecutive season...also legged out then career-high 31 doubles for the two clubs.

1996: Paced Harrisburg (AA) with 82 RBI in only complete Double-A season...hit 18 homers, the highest total of minor league career...batted .467 with 14 hits in the Eastern League playoffs...led Senators to Eastern League championship.

1997: Hit .323 in 73 games with Ottawa (AAA) to earn first big league exposure...enjoyed two separate stints with the Expos: June 6-July 1 and July 21 through the end of the season...appeared in 67 games with Montreal, including 36 starts at third base...went 9x20 (.450) with 4 doubles and 4 RBI as a pinch hitter...first big league hit was a pinch-hit double off Steve Trachsel on June 8 vs. the Cubs...went 4x5 on August 7 vs. Dodgers... with the advent of Interleague play, was Montreal's first designated hitter on June 16 at Baltimore...first start in the field came at third on June 18 at Baltimore...first career homer came on Sept. 11 at Shea Stadium vs. the Mets off Mel Rojas...with Ottawa, posted 90 hits in 73 International League contests...named International League's Player of the Week for the period ending June 1, batting .500 (13x26)...led Ottawa in nearly every offensive category when summoned by Montreal for the first time...played for Ponce in the Puerto Rican Winter League at season's end.

1998: The Expos' Opening Day second baseman, struggled early and was sent to Ottawa (AAA) on May 10...hit .400 in nearly two weeks with the Lynx and was recalled by Montreal on May 23...was again optioned to Ottawa before being recalled for good on Sept. 4...in all, played in 83 big league games...made 46 starts at 2B, 3 at 3B...hit .325 in 25 June contests...following the season, played for Ponce in the Puerto Rican Winter League... was a unanimous selection as the league's MVP...hit .417 and won the batting title...the .417 mark was the highest in the PRWL since Edgar Martinez hit .424 in '90.

1999: Began season as a bench player, but emerged in mid-May as a front line player and produced spectacular results (.304, 12 home runs and 59 RBI)...ranked second in the NL with 45 doubles...tallied 38 multi-hit games...hit .304 despite capping season in 0x26 slide that dropped batting average to .304 from .321...made 115 starts at second base, 7 more at first base...received first career start at first base on April 7 at Pittsburgh...posted career-high 5 RBI on April 14 at Milwaukee...hit first career pinch-hit homer on May 2 vs. St. Louis...hit first career grand slam on Aug. 6 vs. San Diego off Carlos Almanzar... reached base five times on Sept. 1 at Arizona (3x3, 2 BB).

2000: In only second full big league season, turned in career year...established career highs and club records for second baseman in most offensive categories, including batting average (.331), games (153), hits (200), doubles (51), home runs (24) and RBI (97)...became the second second baseman in the last 60 years to post at least 200 hits, 50 doubles and a .300 average (also Craig Biggio in '98)...became just the fourth player in Expos history to reach the 200-hit plateau...the 200 hits also set a franchise mark for hits in a single season by a second baseman (Dave Cash held the previous mark, 188 in '77)...ranked among NL leaders in multi-hit games (2nd with 60), hits (2nd), doubles (3rd), home batting average (5th at .369), batting average against LHP (6th at .373) and batting (7th)...participated in first All-Star Game, which was played at Turner Field in Atlanta... became first Expos second baseman to earn an invite...went 0x1 after pinch-hitting in the ninth inning...named Expos Molson Player of the Month for May (.387, 11 doubles, 5 home runs and 25 RBI, June (.356, 5 home runs and 15 RBI) and August (.333, 38 hits,

7 home runs and 18 RBI)...became only the 5th Expo to earn the POTM award 3 times in a single season (Vlad Guerrero, Pedro Martinez, Andres Galarraga, Tim Raines)...led MLB 2B with 442 assists...ranked second among NL second basemen with 102 double plays...went 3x4 with two stolen bags on Opening Day, April 3 at LA...hit two home runs in a single game for the first time on April 11 at Pittsburgh...scored career-high 4 runs on May 14 vs. Chicago (NL)...matched career high and franchise record with 3 doubles, May 17 vs. Arizona...hit safely in a career-high 14 straight, June 16- July 1 (21x58, .362)...also posted a 12-game hitting streak from May 1-14 (20x48, .417)...along with teammate and fellow-Puerto Rican Javier Vazquez, represented MLB in the annual series/tour of Japan after the season...laced game-winning seventh-inning single in the tour's finale...homered from both sides of the plate in the same game, July 3 at Atlanta...reached base safely via hit or a walk in 24 straight games, Aug. 18-Sept. 24...recorded 200th hit via solo shot on Sept. 30 at NYM off Glendon Rusch...ball was retrieved by Mets security and then was given, by Jose, to his father, who was in attendance.

2001: Produced another stellar offensive season despite missing 36 games due to various injuries...led all NL second basemen with a .319 batting average...trailed only Cleveland's Roberto Alomar (.336) and Seattle's Bret Boone (.333) in MLB...hit over .300 in four of six months...named Expos Molson Player of the Month in July...led NL with a .443 batting average to pocket the citation...hit in the head by a Roy Oswalt pitch on Aug. 4 at Houston...sustained concussion...missed 11 of next 13 contests...51 multi-hit games ranked second on Expos...hit safely in 14 straight games, July 4-20...batted .509 with 5 homers and 16 RBI during the 14-game run, which included 11 multi-hit effort...led MLB with a .456 batting average in interleague play...3-hit effort on Opening Day, April 2 at Chicago (NL), included 2-run homer off Jon Lieber on first pitch...sore left forearm rendered stint on 15-Day DL, May 22...reactivated on June 12 at NYY...hit by pitch three times with the bases loaded, all by Pittsburgh pitchers (Joe Beimel, Jason Schmidt, Rich Loisselle)...reached base safely in nine straight plate appearances, July 4-5 (5 hits, 3 BB, one HBP).

2002: Turned in another potent offensive season...started at second base in the All-Star Game in Milwaukee...took the field with teammate Vladimir Guerrero, marking the first time two Expos started the Mid-Summer Classic since '84 (RHP Charlie Lea, C Gary Carter)...named Expos Molson Player of the Month in both May (.325, 3 home runs, 23 RBI) and June (.352, 3 homers, 15 RBI)...ranked among NL top 10 in batting with RISP (tied for 2nd at .372), hits (3rd with 190), doubles (tied for 3rd with 43), multi-hit games (4th with 54), longest hitting streak (4th with 21), batting average (6th at .315), home batting average (6th at .335), runs (tied 8th with 103), sacrifice bunts (tied for 9th with 11)...hit safely in career-high 21 straight games, May 4-27...the 21-game run tied for the 3rd-longest in Expos history...54 multi-hit games ranked second on the club...scored a career-high 103 runs, topping the century mark for the second time in three seasons (101 in 2000)...hit second career grand slam in 10th inning of 13-9 win on May 25 vs. Philadelphia (off Hector Mercado)...then posted 4 hits the next day vs. Phillies...laced game-winning 3-run double in ninth inning off John Smoltz, May 29 at Atlanta...10th-inning solo shot on July 26 vs. Florida off Vladimir Nunez was a game-winner...hit a game-winning 3-run shot off Toby Borkand in the 14th inning, Sept. 17 at Florida...was ejected for the first time in career on April 27 vs. St. Louis by home-plate umpire Alfonso Marquez for arguing a called third strike.

2003: Battled through a nagging right knee injury, but once again produced offensively and defensively in his seventh season with the Expos...named to his third NL All-Star team by Chicago-skipper Dusty Baker (also 2001 and '02)...due to Marcus Giles injury, started his second Mid-Summer Classic; went 0x2...was batting .332 with 11 home runs and 47 RBI at the All-Star break to earn the honor...for the first time, was named to the 2003 NL Silver Slugger Team...thanks to career-best 69 walks, led NL second basemen with a career-high .397 on-base percentage (12th in NL)...15 home runs were trumped by only Jeff Kent (22) and Marcus Giles (21) among National League second baggers...ranked second on the club with 44 multi-hit games...hit .300 or better in every month except September (.224)...atted .328 (22x67) with 7 doubles, 3 home runs and 12 RBI in 21 games in his homeland of Puerto Rico...also posted impressive on-base (.432) and slugging (.567) percentages in 22 games at Hiram Bithorn Stadium...named MVP of the Expos first Puerto Rico homestand, April 11-20 (13x38 with 7 doubles, 2 homers and 7 RBI)...posted a trio of hit streaks of 10 or more games in '03, the longest of which lasted 13 games (July 3-20)...also posted 12- (Aug. 7-19) and 10-game (April 11-20) hitting streaks...hit game-ending homer to lead off 10th inning, April 12 at Estadio Hiram Bithorn, off NYM's Mike Stanton...the solo shot provided Expos with dramatic 2-1 victory...September 19 at NYM, hit 3rd grand slam of his career, the first ever allowed by Tom Glavine...led the Expos with two multi-homer efforts (July 1 at New York (NL) and Sept. 19 at NY (NL))...hit above .300 against both left- (.315) and right-handed (.309) pitching...13 of 36 doubles came in April...ejected by home-plate umpire Mike Fichter in the ninth inning on Sept. 2 at Philadelphia (arguing balls and strikes).

2004: Despite battling injuries—namely right patella tendinitis—for most of the season, once again posted solid offensive numbers...agreed to terms on a 4-year contract extension, May 14...vastly superior batting in the No. 3 hole (.311 with 10 home runs) than batting No. 2 (.252 with 4 homers)...did not hit at least .300 for the first time in 6 seasons, or since batting .220 in 1998...hit 100th career home run in the 4th inning in the opener of an Aug. 18 doubleheader at San Francisco...had been stuck on 99 for 18 games, but became the ninth member of the Expos' 100-home run club...2-run shot came off San Francisco-starter Brad Hennessey...with a 3-hit effort on June 17 vs. Minnesota, became the seventh member of the Montreal Expos 1,000-hit club...all seven members recorded their first 1,000 hits exclusively wearing an Expos uniform...joined the exclusive list with a fifth-inning infield single off Terry Mulholland (hard liner off the pitcher)...hit safely in 19 straight games, June 12-July 2...went 32x73 (.438) with 4 doubles, 6 home runs and 17 RBI during the 19-gamer...streak was two shor of his career-high 21-game run, May 4-27, 2002...ranked second on the Expos with 8 game-winning RBI (Tony Batista, 18)...hit .376 in day games...batted .308 with runners on base...went 25x72 (.347) in 18 interleague contests...7 of 14 homers came with 2 strikes...hit .301 after the All-Star break despite increasing pain in the knee...played in final game at The Big O on Aug. 15 vs. HOU (3x4, RBI)...on Sept. 8, 2004, had successful surgery performed on his right knee by Dr. Richard Steadman in Vail, Col...Steadman and his staff removed the inflamed portion of the patellar tendon and the inflammatory nodule from Vidro's right knee during the procedure...began rehabbing the knee less than a week after surgery.

2005: Struggled with an assortment of injuries in first season in Washington...coming off surgery on right knee, worked hard to become Nationals starting second baseman on Opening Day...battled right knee inflammation, a right thigh muscle injury and a partially torn tendon in the left ankle...biggest injury came May 4 at Los Angeles...was expected to miss 7-14 days with a high and lateral left ankle sprain...instead, an MRI revealed a partially torn peroneal tendon in his left ankle...missed 54 games...despite injuries, started a team-leading 79 games at second...made 7th Opening Day start on April 4 at Philadelphia and finished 1x5...struggled with power from the left-side, hitting only 2 home runs in 243 at-bats against opposing right-handers (one home run every 121.5 at-bats)...5 of 7 homers came hitting right handed in only 66 at-bats against southpaws (one homer every 13.2 at-bats)...hit .313 (10x32) with RISP and 2 outs...batted .321 in close and late situations...hit .314 in April, .260 thereafter...thrived against division foes Atlanta (.421, 3 homers, 7 RBI) and Philadelphia (.321, one homer, 6 RBI)...posted superior offensive numbers batting third (.484 slugging percentage) than second (.384 SLG)...batted .323 with 4 home runs when leading off an inning...legged out 20 or more doubles for 7th consecutive season...snapped 4-4 tie with game-winning homer in 10th inning off Rheal Cormier, April 7 at Philadelphia...the 10th-inning homer was his 5th career in extra-inning, 4 of which have been game winners (one extra-inning long ball added to an Expos pre-existing lead)...all 4 extra-inning home runs have come in the 10th inning against NL East Foes (April 7, 2005 at Philadelphia off Rheal Cormier [W5-4], April 13, 2003 vs. the New York Mets in Puerto Rico off Mike Stanton [W2-1], July 26, 2002 vs. Florida off Vladimir Nunez [W6-5] and May 25, 2002 vs. Philadelphia off Hector Mercado [grand slam, W13-9]...with the same homer, moved past Rondell White (101) into sole possession of seventh place on franchise all-time homer list...29 August hits tied Jose Guillen for the club lead...notched a trio of game-winning RBI...went 1x5 on Opening Day, April 4 at Philadelphia, in the inaugural game of the Washington Nationals...with 2 hits on April 6 at Philadelphia, surged past Warren Cromartie (1,063) into sole possession of sixth place on franchise's all-time hits list...registered season-high 11-game hitting streak, April 10-21, batting .378 (14x37) with 4 doubles, a triple, 3 homers and 11 RBI...

rehab assignment June 30-July 4, went 2x13 with a double, 3 RBI and 4 walks during a 5-game rehab stint with Potomac of the Single-A Carolina League...in addition to 3 games at DH, played second base twice for the P-Nationals...was reinstated from the DL on July 5 and went 1x4 with a double and RBI that night vs. NYM.

AWARDS: All-Star Game: 2000, 2002 (starter), 2003...Silver Slugger: 2003 (2B)...Puerto Rican Winter League MVP: 1998.

SEATTLE MARINERS 2006 TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

RICHIE SLAMSON... Richie Sexson cracked his single-season, club-record fifth grand slam of the 2006 season Sept. 8, the 14th of his big league career...Richie's slam surpassed Edgar Martinez (4, 2000) for most by a Mariner in one year...the Major League record for slams in a single-season is 6, set by the Yankees Don Mattingly in 1987 and Travis Hafner of Cleveland (2006)...Sexson is one of five players all-time to hit 5 or more slams in single season...the ML record for grand slams in a career is 23, held by Lou Gehrig; Richie's 14 is tied for 12th (with 3 others)... on the active list, Manny Ramirez leads with 20, Ken Griffey Jr. is 2nd with 15; and Richie is tied for third with Mike Piazza...Sexson now has 8 grand slams as a Mariner; putting him fifth on the club's all-time list: 1. Ken Griffey Jr., 12; T2. Jay Buhner, Alvin Davis & Edgar Martinez, 9; 5. Sexson, 8...

EXTRA, EXTRA...Richie Sexson's Sayonara Slam Aug. 8 was the 8th game-ending grand slam home run in Mariners history...five of those slams came in extra innings, including the last one, Bret Boone's 11th inning slam on July 19, 2004 vs. Boston...here's a look at the full list: Sexson, 8/8/06 vs. TB (10th inning); Boone, 7/19/04 vs. BOS (11th); Mike Cameron, 4/22/03 vs. CLE; Mark Whiten, 8/29/96 vs. BAL; Tino Martinez, 7/17/95 vs. DET (10); Jim Presley, 7/17/86 vs. BOS (11); Presley, 4/8/86 vs. CAL (10); Phil Bradley, 4/13/85 vs. MIN...thanks to David Vincent/SABR...

HE JUST HITS...Ichiro Suzuki finsihed the 2006 season with 224 hits, the most in the Majors...it was the third time in his career Ichiro has led the AL in hits, joining 2001 and 2004...both years he led the AL he also led the Majors...

IT'S LIKE CLOCKWORK...Ichiro Suzuki had 224 hits in 2006...it was his sixth consecutive campaign with at least 200 hits...Willie Keeler holds the ML record with eight straight years (1894-1901) and Wade Boggs holds the AL record with 7 consecutive seasons (1983-89)...Ichiro's six consecutive 200-hit seasons to start a career is a Major League record...Ichiro has 1,353 hits in his ML career, meaning he's averaging 225.5 hits per season for his career...

200-100-40...Ichiro Suzuki finished 2006 with 224 hits, 110 runs scored and 45 steals...he is one of just 30 players in ML history (since 1901) to collect the 200-100-40 trio in one season... Ichiro is one of just six players to do it more than once (he also turned the trick in 2001)... in all, the feat has been accomplished 43 times by 30 different players, including six times by Ty Cobb...here's a look at players who have done it more than once: 6x, Ty Cobb (1909, 1911, 1912, 1915, 1916, 1917); 4x, Lou Brock (1964, 1967, 1970, 1971); 3x, Juan Pierre (2001, 2003, 2004); 2x, Ichiro Suzuki (2001, 2006), George Sisler (1920, 1922) and Frankie Frisch (1921, 1927)...Mariners PR has the complete list of all 43 times, if you need it...

STEAL AWAY...Ichiro had 45 steals in 2006...here's the Mariners top-10 single-season stolen base list:

1. Harold Reynolds, 1987	60	Julio Cruz, 1982	46
2. Julio Cruz, 1978	59	Alex Rodriguez, 1998	46
3. Ichiro Suzuki, 2001	56	8. Julio Cruz, 1980	45
4. Julio Cruz, 1979	49	9. Brian Hunter, 1999	44
5. Ichiro Suzuki, 2006	46	10. Julio Cruz, 1981	43

TRIPLE YOUR PLEASURE...with his eighth triple of the 2006 season on Sept. 27, Ichiro passed Harold Reynolds for the career franchise record with 49...he picked up his 50th Sept. 29...Seattle had 42 triples in 2006, the third-highest total in their history...they had 52 triples in 1979 and 48 in 1987...

THIEVERY...Ichiro was successful on his final 40 stolen base attempts of 2006, breaking the Seattle single-season record previously held by Julio Cruz (28 in 1981) and breaking the AL single-season record (Willie Wilson, 32 straight, 1980 w/KC)...it was also the longest streak in the Majors...Ichiro was not caught after April 19...Ichiro also set a new club record (over two seasons) of 40 consecutive steals (prev: Cruz; 32, 9/22/80-6/11/1981)...Vince Coleman holds the ML single-season record w/44 in 1989...

EACH DAY ICHIRO...Ichiro did not play Sept. 26, 2006, ending his consecutive games played streak at 396 games; that is a Mariners team record for most consecutive games played...the old record was 293, held by Edgar Martinez...Edgar set the mark over the 1994-1996 seasons...Ichiro pinch-hit Aug. 18, snapping a string of 209 consecutive starts...(his previous non-start was June 26, 2005 at San Diego)...Ichiro played the first 157 games this season, all 162 in 2005 and in the final 77 of 2004...the last day he didn't play was July 10, 2004...

CATCHING UP...Kenji Johjima finished his rookie campaign with 18 homers, matching the Mariners club mark for home runs by a catcher (18, set by Dan Wilson in 1996)... Johjima's 76 RBI trail only Wilson's 83 in 1996...

NOT BAD FOR A ROOKIE...Kenji Johjima's 76 RBI were the second-best RBI season by a rookie catcher in American League history...according to Stats, Inc., among rookie AL catchers since 1901, the top-3 seasons are: 1, Matt Nokes, DET, 1987, 87; 2, Johjima, 2006, 76; 3, Bengie Molina, ANA, 2000, 71; 4, Butch Wynegar, MIN, 1976, 69; 5. Darrell Porter, MIL, 1973, 67...

CLOSING TIME...J.J. Putz finished the 206 season as just the fifth Seattle pitcher with 30 or more saves, despite not taking over as closer until May 6...from May 6 to the end of the season J.J. had 34 saves, second in the American League (Francisco Rodriguez, LAA, 39) ...here's a look at the top saves seasons in Mariners history...

1.	Kazuhiro Sasaki, 2001	45	Eddie Guardado, 2005	36
2.	Kazuhiro Sasaki, 2002	37	6. Jose Mesa, 1999	33
	Kazuhiro Sasaki, 2000	37	Mike Schooler, 1989	33
T4.	J.J. Putz, 2006	36	8. Mike Schooler, 1990	30

ODDS AND ENDS...

- Mariners won 22 of 38 games to close out the season after an 11-game losing streak...
- on Aug. 20, Mariners fell a season-high 12 under .500...finished the year 6-under at 78-84...
- Seattle was 35-38 in second half, including 20-13 in Safeco Field (were just 15-25 on the road in the second half)...
- longest winning streak: 6 (Aug. 24-29)...longest losing streak: 11 (Aug. 10-20)...
- Seattle was 20-24 in one-run decisions and 16-17 in two-run games...
- Seattle swept 6 series in 2006, was swept 10 times...
- Seattle batted around nine times in '06 (last: 9/21/06 at CWS); sent 9 men to the plate 8x...
- the Mariners were 43-46 at the break...41-40 after 81 games...were 14-4 in Interleague Play...
- the game on Aug. 28 vs. Los Angeles lasted only 1:51, the shortest game in Safeco Field history...previously the record had been 1:52, set earlier in 2006 on June 30 vs. Colorado...it was also the fastest game in the Majors this season...

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:
   - A. Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;
   - B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

   To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:
   - A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.
   - B. Made significant contributions to Mariners Baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

II. Method of Selection – The Board of Directors of the Baseball Club of Seattle, Inc., at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the front office, uniformed personnel, the media and fans, shall in their sole discretion determine who will be selected on an annual basis.

III. Criteria for Selection – The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

   The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:
   1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
   2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
   3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

IV. Time of Selection – The selection process will be conducted during the first quarter of each calendar year. If an individual is selected, it will be announced within the first two months of that regular baseball season.

V. Retirement of uniform number – The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners' Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariner's uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and have spent substantially his entire career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers.

VI. Amendments – The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, all bases on balls and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

Safeco Field is widely recognized by fans and Major League players as one of the best ballparks in baseball. Located just south of downtown Seattle in the SODO neighborhood, Safeco Field boasts excellent sightlines designed specifically for baseball, sweeping views of Puget Sound and the downtown skyline, and a host of fan-friendly amenities that give fans an unparalleled experience.

Since it opened on July 15, 1999, Safeco Field has regularly appeared on Top 10 and "best" lists such as the MLB.com players' survey of favorite ballparks (ranked #2 behind Wrigley Field), ESPN.com staff picks (#10), ESPN.com reader survey (#6), and ESPN.com Best Signature Food (IvarDog). Zagat, the noted travel guidebook, even ranked Safeco Field as one of the top family attractions in the nation (ahead of Seattle's other main attractions including the Space Needle, Woodland Park Zoo and Museum of Flight).

Safeco Field's openness invites fans to enjoy games from many different vantage points and the festive "event within the event" atmosphere of the Bullpen Market attracts thousands of fans before and during games. A wide selection of food, including such local favorites as Ivar's & Kidd Valley, a variety of Pan-Asian dishes and traditional ballpark fare, offer fans a taste of the world.

New to Safeco Field in 2007 is the Northwest Baseball Museum and Mariners Hall of Fame. Located on the Main Concourse along the third base line, the Museum and Hall of Fame offers fans the rich history of baseball in the Pacific Northwest through photos and interactive exhibits. Another new amenity is the All-Star Club on the suite level, an exciting new premium seating opportunity that gives fans a luxury, all-inclusive experience.

Since the Inaugural Game, Safeco Field has drawn over 24 million fans to Major League baseball events. The ballpark has also hosted such varied events as U.S. Men's Soccer matches, Women's Gold Cup Soccer, the 2001 Seattle Bowl college football game, World Wrestling Entertainment's WestleMania XIX, the WIAA State High School baseball championships, Mariners Cup invitational high school baseball tournament, numerous graduations, proms, trade shows, weddings, birthday celebrations and holiday parties.

FANS COME FIRST

Fan comfort and convenience were top considerations in the design and construction of Safeco Field. Wide concourses, ample leg room, excellent sight lines, seats angled toward the field, plenty of bathrooms and concession stands all combine to provide fans with a first-class experience.

THE RETRACTABLE ROOF

The ballpark's one-of-a-kind retractable roof is designed to cover but not enclose the field and seating areas, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure covers nearly 9 acres, weighs 22 million pounds and contains enough steel to build a 55-story skyscraper. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 ten horsepower electric motors. The push of a button extends or retracts the roof in an average of 10-20 minutes (depending on wind and other weather conditions). The roof is self-grounded (in the event of lightning strikes) and is designed to withstand 6-7 feet of snow and sustained winds of up to 70 miles per hour. A world-wide search for a designer of the retractable system ended in Safeco Field's own backyard when Ederer, located in south Seattle, was chosen. Ederer makes cranes and heavy material handling equipment for aerospace, industrial manufacturing and shipping industries.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

Safeco Field features one of the most comprehensive scoreboard systems in Major League Baseball including 11 electronic displays and an old-fashioned hand-operated scoreboard in left field. The main scoreboard in center field features a huge state of the art LED technology video screen and matrix board for display of graphics and animation. The LED screen uses red, green and blue lights illuminated in different combinations and intensities to show 16.7 million shades of colors. The out-of-town scoreboard in left field displays current inning scores of games in progress from around the Major Leagues. Two, first-of-their-kind play-by-play boards along the first and third base lines display running summaries of the game to help fans follow the action. Four auxiliary boards display player at-bat information, pitch speed and type, and additional game-in-progress information.

PLAYING FIELD

Safeco Field's playing surface is a custom designed with a specially designed drainage system and a custom blend of grasses (Kentucky bluegrass and perennial ryegrass) to provide the optimal playing surface for the athletes, the retractable roof and the Northwest climate. The drainage system includes layers of drainage pipe, pea gravel, sand, and grass. A spider web of plastic hose can circulate hot water under the grass to bring it out of dormancy in time for Opening Day, and also to compensate for shade and low levels of direct sunlight. The field can take a downpour of 2½ inches of rain in an hour and be ready for play in 45-minutes.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

Safeco Field's concession and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. A variety of fresh, high-quality foods from the Northwest and around the world are available to fans at concession stands and restaurants throughout the ballpark, including the Hit It Here Café, Bullpen Pub, Terrace Clubs, All-Star Club and Diamond Club members-only lounges, Private Suites and Group Suites. Specialties include Ivar's Fish & Chips, Kidd Valley burgers, garlic fries and shakes, Porter's BBQ, sushi, hand-dipped ice cream, and ballpark standards such as hot dogs, peanuts and Cracker Jack. FYI, fans consume 7,500 hot dogs, 1,300 pounds of peanuts and 5,000 gallons of soda, water, lemonade and beer each night.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The ballpark offers a number of exciting areas for fans. The Bullpen Market, located behind left field, features interactive games and activities for fans, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks, local food vendors, an open pit barbecue, and one of the best views of the game from behind the center field fence.

Lookout Landing, at the end of the left field line on the Upper Deck, provides incredible views both inside and outside the ballpark.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance, is a gathering spot that provides fans with breathtaking views over Puget Sound, as well as tables and benches for picnicking.

Children's Hospital Playfield, located on the Main Concourse in center field, lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-theme playground equipment.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round, seven days a week, offering the world's largest selection of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women, and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works of art by 11 artists from the Northwest are integrated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage in an ambitious $1.3 million Public Art Program. The varied installations include a sculpture of 1,000 translucent bats suspended above the grand staircase at the Home Plate Gate and a huge bronze glove outside the Left Field Gate.

BALLPARK HISTORY

March 30, 1994 — King County Executive Gary Locke appoints a 28-member task force to assess the need for, cost, potential location and advisability of public investment in a new Major League Baseball stadium.

January 1995 — Stadium Alternative Task Force recommends public involvement in financing a new MLB stadium.

September 19, 1995 — A proposal to increase the sales tax by .01% in King County to pay for construction of a new ballpark is narrowly defeated by voters.

October 14, 1995 — A special session of the state legislature authorizes a different funding package for a new stadium including a credit against the state sales tax, sale of special stadium license plates, lottery funds, food & beverage tax in King County restaurants and bars, car rental surcharge in King County, and ballpark admissions tax.

October 23, 1995 — King County Council votes to approve funding package and to establish the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District to own the ballpark and manage the construction project.

January 29, 1996 — Seattle-based NBBJ is chosen by the PFD Board as the project architect.

April 1996 — Hunt-Kiewit is chosen by the PFD Board as the general contractor for construction of the ballpark.

September 9, 1996 — Ballpark site is selected south of the Kingdome.

March 8, 1997 — 30,000 turn out as Ken Griffey, Jr. helps officially break ground for the new ballpark.

June 4, 1998 — Naming rights for ballpark sold for $40 million to Seattle-based Safeco Corporation. Ballpark named Safeco Field.

July 15, 1999 — A capacity crowd of 47,000 attends the Inaugural Game against the San Diego Padres.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST BASEBALL MUSEUM AND SEATTLE MARINERS HALL OF FAME

New at Safeco Field for the 2007 season is the Pacific Northwest Baseball Museum and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame. Both are co-located on the Main Concourse along the third base line. They are free and open to all fans during every Mariners home game.

With the assistance of noted baseball historian Dave Eskenazi, the museum explores the rich history of baseball in the Pacific Northwest from the 1880s to today. Artifacts, photos and interactive exhibits invite fans into the region's baseball history documenting amateur, minor league and Major League Baseball.

The Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame celebrates the best of Mariners baseball with three current inductees—Alvin Davis, Dave Niehaus and Jay Buhner—and Hall of Famers to come over the years.

The Pacific Northwest Baseball Museum is funded through the proceeds of the sales of personalized bricks in the Bullpen Market area of Safeco Field. In total, 12,500 bricks were sold by the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District. The PFD and Mariners worked closely with Bronskill & Company, the international design company that created Major League Baseball's All-Star FanFest, to create an exciting mix of exhibits, displays, dynamic attractions and activities that make up this new guest experience.

Kingdome Farewell

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field. The vertical rails in the middle of the wells are considered in the wells and are out of play.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a foul ball, regardless of where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and the base runners advance at their own risk.

Outfield Area

The hand-operated scoreboard in left field is part of the left field fence. A ball must clear the scoreboard (defined by yellow horizontal line) to be a home run. If a batted ball hits the cyclone fence under the scoreboard and above the padded wall, and the ball lodges behind the padded wall, it shall be ruled a ground-rule double whether it lodges behind the wall on the fly or on a bounce.

The ladder and the handle attached to and to the right of the scoreboard are beyond the padded wall. A fly ball striking either the ladder or handle shall be ruled a home run.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

These policies may be modified from time to time as more experience is gained with the roof and its impact on play

SAFECO FIELD BY THE NUMBERS

600,000 bricks were used to build the facade
420,000 bolts on the roof and bowl: length from 2" to 16"

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres proudly opened baseball's best spring training facility in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre Peoria Sports Complex provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, is the jewel of the $32-million complex and accommodates 11,000 fans (8,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as it was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: Take Bell Road exit off I-17 north; travel west to 83rd Avenue; travel south and enter facility at Stadium Way.

BROADCASTERS

DAVE NIEHAUS has broadcast Mariners baseball since the club's inception in 1977. During his 30 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, the "Voice of the Mariners" has missed only 77 games, including 21 in 1996 (17 due to medical reasons). Entering the 2007 season, he has witnessed 4,598 of the 4,675 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game. In 2004, Niehaus was named Washington State Broadcaster of the Year by the Washington State Association of Broadcasters. He was also inducted into the Puget Sound Sports Hall of Fame. The Washington Council of the Blind gave him the 2004 One World Award. Niehaus was the top vote-getter in the fan balloting for the 2005 Ford C. Frick Award for induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Niehaus was also nominated by national vote of the fans for the 2003, 2004 and 2006 and was again a finalist for the Frick Award this year. Niehaus threw out the Ceremonial First Pitch for the Inaugural Game at Safeco Field (July 15, 1999). He was named one of Seattle Times' Top 10 Most Influential People of the Century and named the Entertainer of the Century by a local radio station. In 1997, Niehaus was honored by the Washington State House of Representatives for his "contributions to the quality of life in the Pacific Northwest." He was elected Sportscaster of the Year for the state of Washington in 1995 and 1996 by his contemporaries in the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) have become familiar throughout the Northwest. In addition, on May 7, 2000, Dave was inducted into the Mariners Hall of Fame. Niehaus joined Mariner first baseman Alvin Davis as the first two members of the club's Hall of Fame.

Dave was born and raised in Princeton, Ind., and is a graduate of Indiana University. He worked for the Armed Forces radio and TV service, calling the action for Dodgers games before moving to New York to handle Yankees baseball as well as basketball and hockey. After leaving the Armed Forces Network, he returned to Los Angeles to broadcast the Dodgers, Rams and Lakers. From 1969-76, he teamed with Dick Enberg and Don Drysdale to call the action for the California Angels. Dave also broadcasted UCLA football and basketball (1973-76). He resides in Bellevue with his wife Marilyn. They have three children: Andy, Matt and Greta and four grandchildren, Zach, Steven, Madeline and Alexa.

RICK RIZZS is in his 22nd season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2007. He also spent three seasons calling the play-by-play on radio for the Detroit Tigers from 1992-94. He previously teamed with Dave Niehaus on radio and television for the Mariners from 1983-91.

Rick is a 1975 graduate of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. From 1975-80, he handled baseball play-by-play duties at the double-A level for Alexandria, Amarillo and Memphis. He became the sports director at WBNS radio in Columbus, OH in 1981, where he called Ohio State football and triple-A baseball for two seasons. He was named the Ohio "Sportscaster of the Year" in 1981 by the Ohio Sportscasters Association. Rick was hired to broadcast Mariners games in 1983 and spent nine seasons with the club. In 2000, Rick was named the Chicago-area sportscaster of the year by the Chicago Pitch and Hit Club. From 1992-94, he teamed with Bob Rathbun to call the action for the Tigers on WJR in Detroit. Rick resides in Issaquah, WA. Rick has one son, Nick and one grandson, Jaxon.

DAVE SIMS is in his first season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2007. The versatile Sims, who has national experience in baseball, basketball and football, grew up in Philadelphia and attended Bethany College in West Virginia. He played catcher and majored in mass communications before graduating in 1975. Sims, who will focus on play-by-play duties on Mariners television broadcasts, is familiar to sports fans across the country for calling Major League Baseball and college basketball games for ESPN, as well as NFL play-by-play on Westwood One/CBS Radio Sports, including the 2007 NFC Championship game. The two-time Emmy Award winner has also called play-by-play for NCAA Basketball regular season games and tournament coverage for the past six years. Sims was the recipient of the Big East Media Award in 2005, and also won the American Football Foundation's Lindsey Nelson Outstanding Sportscaster Award. Sims began his career as a sportswriter for the New York Daily News, covering college sports, professional soccer and the NBA. He then became a weekend sports anchor at WCBS-TV in New York. In 1991, Sims joined ESPN as a play-by-play announcer for college basketball. He's also been a longtime broadcaster for Big East football (1993-94 and 1998-2006). On radio, he provided play-by-play for CBS Radio/Westwood One's Sunday night NFL broadcast starting in 2005 and on a permanent basis since 2006. Sims also calls NCAA Basketball Tournament action for Westwood One. He has also worked as a reporter and anchor for WCBS-TV and as a talk show host for MSG Network and WFAN-AM in New York. He co-hosts "Basketball & Beyond with Coach K" for XM Satellite Radio with Duke University Hall of Fame coach Mike Krzyzewski. Sims and his wife Abby have two sons.

MIKE BLOWERS, who will serve primarily as the Mariners television analyst, is a long-time fan favorite who did three tours with the Mariners (1992-1995, 1997, 1999). For the last four years, Blowers has been the pre- and post-game analyst on KOMO 1000 News broadcasts of Mariners games. Blowers was a stand-out at Bethel High School in Spanaway, Wash., and was a Pac-10 Triple Crown winner while with the University of Washington Huskies. During his 11-year Major League career, Blowers also played for the New York Yankees (1989-91), Los Angeles Dodgers (1996) and Oakland Athletics (1998). He played in the postseason with the Mariners in 1995 and 1997. During Seattle's memorable 1995 season, he set career highs in almost every statistical category, including 113 hits, 24 doubles, 23 homers and 96 RBI. He tied a Major League record with three grand slams in a single month in August of '95, when he hit .283 with nine homers and a club-record tying 33 RBI. Blowers received the first-ever "Unsung Hero" award from the Seattle chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993. He was originally selected by the Montreal Expos in the 10th round of the 1986 June draft. After being traded to the Yankees on Aug. 31, 1989, Blowers made his Major League debut with the Yankees on Sept. 1 vs. California. He actually made his first big league start against the Mariners on Sept. 5, 1989. Blowers lives in Graham, Wash., with his wife Nicole and their four children.

KEVIN CREMIN is in his 25th season as Executive Producer/ Engineer for all Mariners radio broadcasts in 2007. He is responsible for the technical aspects of each broadcast, as well as relaying updated game information to Dave Niehaus and Rick Rizzs. Cremin also produces the Hot Stove League and Saturday and Sunday Magazine shows for KOMO 1000 News.

The Tulsa, OK, native attended the University of Oklahoma and studied journalism. After spending eight years in the circulation department of the Tulsa World & Tribune, he joined the Mariners Radio Network full-time in 1983. He is currently the senior radio engineer in the American League. He resides in Seattle with wife Margaret and daughters Colleen and Kate.

MARK ENGELBREKT is in his 22nd season with Mariners television in 2007. He currently serves as the Director for all telecasts on FOX Sports Net and KSTW-TV in Seattle.

Mark graduated from the University of Washington in 1974 with a B.A. in communications. After working as a floor director for KING and KOMO, he joined KSTW in 1977 as Producer/Director of the Ten O'clock News. He produced Mariners telecasts from 1982-85 and served as Producer/Director from 1989-91. He joined the Mariners organization as television network producer in 1993. He resides in Seattle with wife Dianne, son Max and daughter Lily.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).
1903: The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
1919: Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).
1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.
1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.
1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.
1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.
1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
1969: The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.
1970: On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.
1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
1997: On September 23, Seattle won its second American League West pennant.
1999: On June 27, Seattle played their final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.
1999: On July 15, Seattle played their first game in Safeco Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
2000: On October 1, Seattle won the AL Wild Card.
2001: On September 19, Seattle won its third American League West pennant.
2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.

NOTABLE SEATTLE MARINERS ARTIFACTS IN COOPERSTOWN
- Jersey worn by Edgar Martinez during his final major league game in 2004.
- Bat used by Ichiro Suzuki for hit number 200 in 2004 (first in history with 200+ hits in first four seasons).
- Bat, batting gloves, spikes, wrist bands, elbow guard & sunglasses from Ichiro Suzuki's 262nd and final hit of the 2004 season; his total surpassed George Sisler's mark of 257 hits in a season, a record that stood since 1920.
- Ball from Jamie Moyer's 21st win of the 2003 season on Sept. 28 of that year, marking the fifth time in history that a team used all five starters for the entire season.
- Bat used by Mike Cameron on May 3, 2002 to hit four home runs, matching a single game record.
- Bat used by Bret Boone on May 3, 2002 to hit back-to-back homers with Mike Cameron twice in the same inning, the first time any two players accomplished that feat in major league history.
- Bat used by Ichiro Suzuki in 2001, when he won the A.L. Rookie of the Year and MVP Awards.
- Spikes worn by Kazuhiro Sasaki in 2000 when he won the American League Rookie of the Year Award.
- Ball from Randy Johnson's 19-strikeout game, June 24, 1997, the total was an A.L. record for a lefty.
- Ball from Chris Bosio's no-hit game on April 22, 1993.
- Glove and jersey worn by Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry to record his 300th career win on May 6, 1983.
